Short Board Meeting, Reassembled as Executive Session to discuss Litigation

- After the Consent Agenda was passed, the Board meeting adjourned the General Session, which is held publicly, and reassembled as a closed Executive Session to discuss probable and imminent litigation.
- There were no comments made by citizens. As local students were among the observers, the trustees explained the rationale of the Consent agenda, which is a condensed set of uncontroversial actions that are allowed to be grouped and voted upon together. The Board members receive a packet of information prior to the meeting, which they review and question in advance. Sometimes a board member may find an issue to be somewhat controversial or may just want the public to hear more about a certain issue. Any member can pull an item out of the consent agenda for further discussion.
